LAWRENCE KEVIN REICHEL,
PLAINTIFF,
vs.
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
DEFENDANT.

NOTICE OF DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT
BY PLAINTIFF LAWRENCE REICHEL

Plaintiff, Lawrence Reichelt,, is unable to attend court hearings due to his disability which has taken a rather dramatic downturn. There are long periods of time that Plaintiff is unable to walk accompanied by severe pain when attempting to walk. These periods of disability come on suddenly and not as a result of any physical activity. When first diagnosed with Hepatitis C, physical activity produced pronounced fatigue. Currently, Plaintiff suffers from pronounced fatigue without any physical activity whatsoever. This severe fatigue has a direct negative effect on Plaintiff's

1 application of logic, his analytical ability and ability to effectively communicate. It is not only
2 impossible for Plaintiff to participate in Court hearings but to do the research necessary to prepare for 3 oral argument and other necessary research which would be necessary for future motions and 4 responses. Although Plaintiff believes that this is a meritorious claim, Plaintiff must consider his 5 health as being far more important than continuing with this litigation.
